

Diego „Dipi“ Kvitko

The guitarist, composer and arranger Diego Kvitko was born in Buenos Aires in 1975. After graduating from the Escuela de Música de Avellaneda in Buenos Aires, he consolidated his musical formation with Aníbal Arias and the classical guitar with the prestigious teacher and soloist Irma Costanzo. Since 1996 he plays Tango and has been part of the Aníbal Arias guitar quartet, the quartet Seccion Vermu and Daniel Melingo's and Jose Angel Trelles' ensembles. With the guitar ensemble Hugo Rivas he accompanied the singer Jorge Vidal and bandoneonist Leopoldo Federico and with the quartet "Catenacho" the singers Ricardo "Chiqui" Pereyra and Omar Mollo and collaborated in the recordings of Rudy Flores. Since 2000 he performs with Walter "El Chino" Laborde in their duo "Tango Tango", that they presented twice in Japan.
